NUMBER 35

The Missus and I regret exceedingly that we were unable to attend the Military Ball in the Capitol building at Jefferson City Friday night and the reception at the Mansion House preceding the ball. It will likewise be our regrets that we will be unable to accept the invitation from the Hon. Homer A. Holt, Governor of West Virginia to attend the National Editorial Association that meets in Charleston at the Greenbrier Hotel June 20.

This issue of The Standard is carrying pictures of some of the homes recently erected in Sikeston, although two of the old style of architecture are shown. Some of the photos were taken by Mr. Bach around the first of December for publication before the Christmas holidays but the photographer asked for time to develop same. Since then others have been taken and all are appearing in this one issue. There has been no attempt to capitalize this issue as a special addition to secure advertising or to attempt to use the picture of every new house in the city built during the past year for we ran out of money, however, we hope the pressman will get a good print on these cuts in order that our readers and exchanges can see that Sikeston has, and is, forging ahead to be one of the best cities in the Central West in which to live and own a home.

The Standard can direct the right sort of a man to a $50 a week position provided he measures up to the specifications. The man must be between the ages of 25 and 30, married, sober and reliable and of good appearance. Report in person to The Standard editor.

We are in receipt of a letter asking for a cash price on The Sikeston Standard. This is mighty nice of some one believing The Standard a desirable piece of newspaper property and at our age we suppose we should grab at the opportunity to sell. However, we don't feel so bad blamed old and if we should sell what would we do? And, again, it might be that some milk sop would use the pole cat column that would be a disappointment to the readers. We suppose we will hold on to the paper until Father Time gets us then let C. L. Blanton, Jr., take the editorial pencil and pass it on down to his son and his sons son.

Father O'Neill had to jump sideways Friday forenoon to keep from being struck by a large truck. He stated that he had been in St. Louis, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and New York in the United States, Dublin, Limerick and Belfast in Ireland, Glasgow in Scotland, London and Liverpool in England, and in none of those cities did he have to do such fast footwork to keep from being hit as he did in the fast growing city of Sikeston.

Don Carr and William Despain of the Safety Campaign out of Jefferson City were in Sikeston and Southeast Missouri looking after the condition of the highways with the idea of safety to life and limb.

Again we will say any of our exchanges who would like to reproduce any or all of these cuts will be very welcome to same and all we will ask is to be given credit for same.

Judge W. H. Carter has thrown his hat in the ring for Police Judge and placed his money on the barrel head and in due course of time will aim to call on every voter in the city. Judge Carter needs no introduction to the citizens of Sikeston as he was a merchant here for nearly half a century and was former Police Judge of the city.

300-Mile Electric Line Out of Sikeston To Farm Homes In 3 Counties Assured

Rural electrification authorities have given their approval to the 300-mile power line out of Sikeston and have already earmarked $140,000 for the project. E. H. Collins of Washington, D. C., field representative of the REA, told directors of the Scott-New Madrid-Mississippi County Co-operative Association in a meeting Thursday afternoon at the Del-Rey Hotel.

Canvassers have been in communities in the three counties on the proposed route of the electric line signing up prospective patrons. All those desiring electric service at their farm homes located along the route of the line must turn in their applications before Tuesday, Jan. 25, according to H. M. Zaricor, temporary project superintendent.

As far as possible, patrons will be served in the order in which they join the association, Mr. Zaricor said.

Mr. Collins' assurance of the project was the first definite word to Sikeston about the outcome of the plan to supply farm homes in this section with electricity. The project has been in the making for several months.

The association hopes to start construction by the middle of April, Mr. Zaricor said. REA headquarters in Washington estimated the full 300-mile line would cost $289,000. The $140,000 was allotted to begin operations and more funds are slated for a later date.

As its next step the REA will make a final survey of the line so that designs may be submitted to contractors when the government asks for bids. G. E. Simpson, electrical engineer of Kansas City, is now at work in this section on plans.

It is virtually certain that power will be supplied either in Sikeston or close to the city.

Memberships are coming in rapidly, Mr. Zaricor said, so that an ample number of patrons is definitely assured. Since the final day to sign is so close at hand, any farmer wishing service may join through his county agent.

The association can only serve its own members, Mr. Zaricor stated. Customers must join in order to get electricity. The association was granted a charter from the secretary of state. Any one living in the project area, not now served by electricity, may become a member.

Farmers become members, or stockholder, with the payment of $5 for one share of stock, which serves as a meter deposit. Every shareholder has one vote in the conducting of the affairs of the organization. The co-operative group expects to pay off its debt in 20 years at an interest of less than 3 per cent.

Stockholders several days ago elected nine men to serve along with the regular officers as a board of directors. Those elected were Rev. Hubert J. Eggman, New Hamburg; S. R. Schuchart, Sikeston Rt. 1; John T. Carlton, Commerce; H. G. Cathey, Cairo; R. G. Stroud, Matthews; J. H. Spradlin, Kewanee; E. S. Nelson, Wyatt; David E. Conn, Wyatt, and E. L. Cobb, East Prairie. Officers are: President, Judge Elton Proffer, Matthews; vice-president, E. Moxley, Charleston; secretary-treasurer, Alvin G. Gasser, Sikeston Rt. 1.

Negro Youth Leaves With Shop's $15 to Take Trip

Ernest Draper, negro youth employed at Ichy's Barber Shop, was given $15 Thursday to deposit in the bank. Instead, he started off with it so see the world.

He got as far as Lon Nall's tavern a mile and a half north of the city. There he called a taxi from Sikeston and asked to be taken to Cape Girardeau. The driver, suspicious told Draper the fare would be $8, and in addition said he had a call waiting for him back in Sikeston.

Draper agreed to come back to Sikeston while the cab driver answered the call. The driver drove to a residence on Tanner Street and said his call was at this location. It was the home of State Trooper Melvin Dace. The patrolman came out and took Draper into custody.

Draper was taken to the city jail, and Friday morning pleaded guilty to stealing the money. Justice Wm. S. Smith sentenced him to 90 days in the county jail. The negro told the justice he wanted to go to Cape Girardeau. A few weeks ago Draper, who is an expert tap dancer, got married one Sunday at the shop, and a real dancing exhibition took place for the celebration.

Nazerian Will Wrestle Ole; Popalino Meets Englishman

The two chief reasons why both wrestling bouts at the armory last Wednesday ended with disqualification will be matched together for the big show this Wednesday.

To put it another way, Ole Olson and Mike Nazerian, Armenian who made his first appearance locally last week, will do the hugging act together.

Completing Mike Meroney's round-the-world booking, Tony Popalino of Italy will tackle Ted Bell, Englishman and newcomer to these parts. So a Minnesota Swede, an Armenian, an Italian and an Englishman will vie for muscular superiority here Wednesday.

Nazerian lost by disqualification to Eddie Malone, after each man had won a fall, and Ole was ruled out in his match for unnecessary roughness after he and Sid Marcus had split two rounds. The Armenian weighs in at 200 pounds and Ole's Scandinavian frame registers 190 pounds; tattoo marks thrown in. That both men will get so rough as to have each other disqualified is not likely, for it is customary, when both gentlemen are anything but gentlemen, to let the torture go on unabated, as each man has and uses the privilege of roughing his opponent.

Tony Popalino will be remembered more recently as the man who tossed Sugy Hayanaka, the nimble Japanese, for the only loss the oriental has suffered on the Sikeston canvas. Bell with 175 pounds barely shades the Italian in weights.

FIVE WRESTLERS NOW ON INJURED ROLLS

Mike Meroney, Caruthersville promoter who stages the Sikeston bouts, says he has five men more or less on the injured list.

W. M. Lee, Resident Here 24 Years, Dies

William M. Lee, resident of Sikeston for the past 24 years, died at his home on Cressap Street at 7:10 o'clock Sunday night from complications due to chronic bronchitis. He was 59 years old.

Mr. Lee had been failing health for the past four or five years. He was bedfast for the past five weeks. Born near Bardwell, in Carlisle County, Ky., Mr. Lee was reared there and lived there until coming to Sikeston. In 1904, at Clinton, Ky., he was married to Mattie Ables. In Sikeston he was employed at various jobs, working with the city and with the Highway Department at different times.

He leaves his widow; seven children, all living in Sikeston, Wallace Lee, Mrs. Edna May Kirby, Ray Lee, Thelma Lee, Arnold "Sonny" Lee, Robert Lee and Helen Lee; four grandchildren; mother, Mrs. W. H. Lee, and a half-sister, Mrs. Fred Potter, both also of Sikeston. Funeral services will take place at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. E. W. Milner and Rev. C. F. Transeu, and burial will be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Four Youths Are Injured in Headon Crash West of City

Four youths, three from Morehouse and one from Sikeston, were injured in a headon collision at 7 o'clock Sunday night at the foot of the ridge hill one mile west of Sikeston.

Bill Grisham, 18, of Sikeston, was driving toward Morehouse with Bill Mosley, 19, when their car was struck by the 1933 Chevrolet coupe driven by Roger Fisher, 17.

Fisher, who had Kinard Dillon, 18, as a passenger, told the Highway Patrol he was traveling about 55 miles per hour and a car without any tail light loomed up suddenly before him. He swerved his car across the highway into the left lane of traffic, crashing headon into the Chevrolet sedan driven by Grisham, who was traveling about 35 miles per hour. The cars met with heavy impact. The Grisham car was almost a total wreck, and the Fisher automobile was badly damaged in front.

The four boys were taken to the office of Dr. T. C. McClure in the Albritton ambulance. Fisher suffered a broken ankle, Dillon a severely lacerated lip and a broken jaw, Mosley head injuries and Grisham's left leg was hurt. Grisham was removed to his home, 214 East Shelby, and Fisher and Dillon to their homes in Morehouse in the ambulance. Mosley was taken to his home later.

The car without the tail light stopped momentarily and then left the scene.

Sikeston Driver's Permit In First List of Suspensions

John L. Crooks, 830 Linn Avenue, Sikeston, was one of the first 20 persons in the state of Missouri to have his driver's license suspended under the new law governing operators of motor vehicles.

On the first list ever sent out by the commissioner of motor vehicles at Jefferson City, V. H. Steward, Crooks was listed as having his permit suspended for one year for operating a vehicle while intoxicated. Conviction came in the Callaway County Circuit Court at Fulton on December 18.

From the state list of 20, nine of the suspensions were made in courts of the Troop E area, which has headquarters in Sikeston, according to Capt. A. D. Shepperd.

Those whose permits were suspended in this troop area are: C. L. Sitze, Cape Girardeau, Cape County Circuit Court at Jackson, one year, intoxicated driving; S. R. Smith, Cape Girardeau, Jackson court, 35 days, careless driving; Charles Hobbs and B. Owens, Gainesville, both for driving intoxicated, one year, Ozark County Circuit Court; L. R. Blivens, Mountain Grove, one year, intoxicated driving, Wright County Circuit Court at Hartsville; Wilbur Jennings, Norwood, one year, intoxicated driving, Wright County; William Massey, Urban, one year, intoxicated driving, Wright County; Dave Bowman, Ava, one year, intoxicated driving, Wright County; J. M. Rieger, Ozark County, one year, driving while intoxicated, Ozark County Circuit Court.

These cases and the remaining ones on the list from other parts of the state represent those which have been filed in Jefferson City, according to Capt. Shepperd. Others have already been suspended in the Butler County Circuit Court at Poplar Bluff and at Jackson, as well as in other counties, he explained. These will be sent out later.

Suspension lists are sent to Highway Patrol officers, sheriffs and to prosecuting attorneys. A person caught driving in the period of his suspended permit is liable to a $100 fine and six months in jail. This applies also if he borrows a license, and to any person who knowingly lends his license to such a driver. At the time the driving sentence is passed, the circuit judge files a notice, along with the operator's permit, to the state office.

CAPE COLLEGE CHOIR SING AT NASHVILLE

New Entry Brings List of Schools in Contest to 16

Sixteen schools have now entered the rural school equipment contest sponsored by Sikeston merchants.

In addition to the three new ones mentioned in last week's issue, the Kendall School near Lillibourne has joined the competition for the 13 prizes, which include a $75 playground, merry-go-round seating 35 children as first prize.

Votes are being cast rapidly as the totals pile up. In another section of the newspaper a list of schools are being printed. The number of votes will not be printed until the contest is finished, it has been decided. Neither will the arrangement of names in the box showing the schools entered indicate how the schools stand. Information about the standing of the schools will not be given out.

Each teacher counts the votes for his or her particular school and places them in an envelope, writing the name of the school and the teacher and the number of votes thereon. If there is a mistake in the counting the contest manager will notify the teacher, and if correct the total will be credited to the proper school and deposited.

Sales slips and receipts will be recognized only from Sikeston merchants sponsoring the contest. Second prize in the contest is a 10-foot playground slide; third prize a basketball and goals, and 10 additional awards of Atlas globes.

Indiana Boy, 15, in Stolen Auto Arrested by Patrol

Riding in a stolen car, Robert Kernes, 15, of Columbia City, Ind., was taken into custody Sunday by State Troopers John Tandy and Vincent Boisaubin at the Country Club Tavern north of the city where Kernes attempted to trade a set of car tools for gasoline.

Taken to patrol headquarters here, Kernes admitted stealing the automobile, a 1936 Ford coupe, at Ft. Wayne, Ind., in the business section of the city.

Riding with Kernes were two men on leave from the Marine Hospital in St. Louis. They were Ernest Harnitz, 24, of Catron, Mo., and Arthur Linville, 18, of Hillsboro, Ill. They said they were riding with Kernes as hitchhikers and did not know the car was stolen Kernes confirmed this.

Kernes said he stole the car in Ft. Wayne at 6 p. m. Wednesday. He told officers he traveled along at a leisurely rate, picking up Linville at Litchfield, Ill., as the latter was returning to his hospital from a leave, arriving in St. Louis, he picked up Harnitz and Linville decided to come with Harnitz to his home in Catron. The two men were due back at the hospital at 8 p. m. Sunday. Linville is a CCC enrollee, and Harnitz has worked on river boats. The Patrol did not detain them.

Kernes said he was not bound for any particular place. Once before he was arrested for larceny of a dwelling at Columbia City. He was in the city jail Monday, awaiting authorities from Ft. Wayne who said they would come for the youth and automobile.

Standard Sponsoring Scott County Farm-To-Prosper Competition

Stressing the need for a more stable farm income and the necessity of producing food and feed, the Memphis Commercial Appeal and Sikeston Standard will sponsor the 1938 Plant-To-Prosper competition in Scott County.

Approximately $2750 in cash awards will be given the farm families in Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Missouri who make the best records in the contest.

County Agent F. J. Veatch, Jr., and Home Demonstration Agent Ella Fikauert will have charge of competition in Scott County.

Winner of the contest in this county will be awarded the Plant-To-Prosper Certificate of Honor and will be invited to the annual Plant-To-Prosper dinner at Memphis on Dec. 14.

The annual enrollment campaign will begin Feb. 1 and close April 1, with an enrollment trophy being awarded to the county having the largest percentage of farm families entered. Enrollment blanks will be available at the office of the county agent and home demonstration agent on Feb. 1.

Awards, rules and regulations of the competition are:

Divisions

Tenant and Sharecropper Division—All tenant and sharecropper families are eligible. Tenants with sub-tenants are not eligible for this division.

Landowners' Division—This division is for the landowners who farm their own land without the aid of tenant families.

Farm Operators' Division—For tenants and landowners with one or more tenants.

Awards

Sweepstakes—Five hundred dollars cash award by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee and The Commercial Appeal trophy to the tenant or landowner making the best record in living at home, diversification, soil conservation, and home improvement.

Tenant Sweepstakes—Two hundred and fifty dollars cash award by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee and Plant To Prosper Trophy to the tenant or sharecropper making the best record in the competition.

Farm Operators Trophy—Awarded by The Commercial Appeal to the farm family with one or more tenants, whose tenants make the best record in following a program of living at home.

Home Improvement Awards—One hundred dollars cash for the first in the competition; $60 for second, and $40 for third—to the tenant family who makes the most improvement to his home with his own hands.

State Landowner Awards—Winners of first place in each state will receive $100; second place, $75; and third place, $50.

State Tenant or Sharecropper Awards—Winners of first place in each state will receive $100; second place, $75; and third place, $50.

SAVE YOUR SALES SLIPS

It should be remembered that every sales slip of a Sikeston merchant who is sponsoring the school contest is worth its face value—one vote for each penny. It should also be remembered that the advertisements of the sponsoring merchants, as they appear in The Standard, are worth votes. Start now, save every sales slip on a purchase that you make in Sikeston and turn it over to your district teacher, that she may credit your school with the votes. And be sure and see that your district is entered.

A SELECTED EDITORIAL

Some of the city papers are out with front page pictures of Glenn Frank, who has accepted the chairmanship of the Republican party's program committee and stated he would conduct an open-minded search for policies that will keep "America a going concern."

It is to be hoped Mr. Frank will have better luck than some of his predecessors, viz: Harding, Coolidge, Hoover, John Hamilton et al. Some of these poor misguided boys searched earnestly for "principles and lines" for a long time without much luck in evidence so far.

Perhaps Mr. Frank may prove a little wiser than the rest and discover a find with which to prove the worthiness of a rare specimen. Some good kind friend should tip him off to start early, work hard and long late hours.—Carthage Democrat.

It always hurts our feelings to see a stranger prosper at the expense of our home town people and then belittle the atmosphere and conditions of this and other small towns. We know such an individual who last week profited to the extent of more than $40 from local business men. A member of this office's staff heard him say that he positively could not stand little towns, that he had spent a couple of days in Shelby and "saw nobody." He was a "city man," so he said, and didn't care much about our ways in the country. He failed to appreciate that he probably did better in the two days he spent in Shelby than he could have in the same time in a city. We have no objections, or right to complain, about a stranger coming to our town, settling down and living as others do here, and making a fair profit on his labors. But we do resent criticism of our community by one who has prospered because of it. Had we heard his remark, we probably would have been foolish enough to tell him some things he ought to know.—Shelbina Democrat.

INSURANCE RIGHTS GIVEN K. OF C. AND WOODMEN AGAIN

Jefferson City, Jan. 20.—The licenses of the Modern Woodmen of America and the Knights of Columbus for writing insurance in Missouri were reinstated today by George A. S. Robertson, state superintendent of insurance, with the approval of Gov. Stark.

Robertson's predecessor, R. Emmet O'Malley, revoked the license of the Modern Woodmen July 29, 1936, and suspended the Knights of Columbus license October 15, 1936.

O'Malley's administration as insurance superintendent was marked by bitter disputes with fraternal insurance societies. O'Malley was dismissed summarily by Gov. Stark last October in a conflict over policies of the insurance department.

Robertson explained that the decision to reinstate the Modern Woodmen of America and the Knights of Columbus was made on recommendation of Charles M. Hansen, actuary of the insurance department, and O. R. Jackson, chief examiner, "after careful and exhaustive studies of the affairs of both societies."

The action will permit the two associations to resume insurance business in Missouri immediately, Robertson said.

The Modern Woodmen had 34,490 policies in force in this state, representing total insurance of $45,683,000, prior to revocation of its license.

The Knights of Columbus had $6,944,432 insurance in force among 6,206 policyholders in Missouri.

None of these policies was affected by O'Malley's action against the companies.

NEGRO GETS FREE RIDE IN BEARSE: NOW HE IS BEING SOUGHT

Caruthersville, Jan. 20.—Arrest is expected shortly of a Negro, who had given his name as Johnnie Brewer, and who secured a ride from Charleston to Caruthersville this week in a Charleston hearse, after telling the undertaker that his sister had died in Caruthersville and that he wanted to take the body back to Charleston. When the hearse arrived here the Negro asked the driver to wait until he went into a house, and he never returned. The charge for the 80-mile trip with the hearse would have been $35.

The hearse driver reported to Chief of Police Luther White here, telling of the hoax. The chief said such a Negro is known here, and that his sister is still alive.

OLD GEOGRAPHY HAS STATE UNINHABITED

Pollock, Mo., Jan. 20.—A. W. Baldridge of Pollock has a geography that was published in 1827 and was used as a text book by his grandfather, Wilson Baldridge. The author was Thomas T. Smiley and the title is "An Easy Introduction to the Study of Geography." The leather binding is worn at the edges and the paper discolored with age, but the printing in small type is still readable. The book is 4 by 6 inches and has 252 pages.

It describes the Western States as "those which lie wholly west of the Allegheny Mountains," and Missouri as "Missouri Territory," and not inhabited.

Group in Rio Grande Valley Seeks To Secede From Texas

McAllen, Tex., Jan. 20.—Some citizens of four Texas counties are launching a secession move to organize the southernmost counties of Hidalgo, Willacy, Cameron and Starr into a new state with a 30-day, $100 divorce law; State-operated liquor stores, and State-controlled betting on horses and dog races.

The sponsors elected P. E. Montgomery, publisher, president of their group and appointed committees in each Rio Grande Valley city to push an educational campaign.

Assistant Attorney-General Scott Gaines said at Austin the State Constitution did not mention secession. The treaty of annexation, he said, provided that Texas could split into two or more states by the vote of its citizens.

Gordon Griffin, McAllen attorney, set up the principles of organization, which included assumption of all indebtedness of the four counties and operation without ad valorem taxes.

Griffin proposes a unicameral Legislature composed of not less than nine or more than 21 members, elected at large and serving four years without eligibility for re-election.

PREPARE BALLOT TITLE FOR PENSION PROPOSAL

Jefferson City, Jan. 20.—The ballot title for the proposed state constitutional amendment to reduce the age of persons eligible for old-age pensions from 70 to 65 was prepared today by Attorney General Roy McKittick's office in accordance with the resolution passed by the last General Assembly as shown in its journals.

Through an error, a section rejected by the Legislature was certified to the Secretary of State's office with the resolution but this section was disregarded in preparation of the title which will appear on the ballot for a vote of the people next November.

Reduction of the age limit is required if the state is to continue to receive federal matching funds after 1940. The title was prepared by Assistant Attorney General Covell R. Hewitt at the request of Secretary of State Dwight H. Brown.

Of Cape Cod Colonial architecture, this recently completed home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Barton of North Ranney, contains seven rooms; living and dining rooms, kitchen with a breakfast nook, sun room and three bedrooms. The woodwork is painted white and the walls are finished in tinted plaster. With the exception of the sun room and the guest bedroom, which are modern in furnishings, period style predominates in the interior decoration, including pieces of furniture in Duncan Phyfe, Chipendale and Queen Ann. The house is painted white and has a garage attached.

MISS MILDRED BRADLEY IS WED TO FRANK KERN

The marriage of Miss Mildred Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bradley of Kennett, Missouri, and W. Frank Kern of Kokoma, Indiana, was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, January 20th, in the First Methodist Church at Kennett. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kern of Akron, Indiana.

The single ring ceremony was read in a candle light service by the Rev. J. N. Broadhead, pastor of the church, before the altar banked with ferns and Southern smilax and flanked on either side by lighted white tapers. In each of the seven windows was a lighted taper.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Catherine Ann Cook, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. O. T. Elder at the organ, played as a violin solo, Cadman's "At Dawning", and Mrs. John W. Noble, a cousin of the bride, sang "Loves Old Sweet Song" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told". Lehigh's Wedding March was played by Mrs. Elder as the Processional and Mendelssohn's March was used as the Recessional. Throughout the ceremony, Mrs. Elder softly played the "Melody of Love".

The candles were lighted by Shirley Shainberg of Sikeston and Jane Lee Abington of Poplar Bluff who were gowned alike in sailing blue taffeta made on Colonial lines.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore dusty pink chifon made on Colonial lines, with a shoulder length veil to match, which was held in place by Orange Blossoms. She carried a Colonial bouquet of Briarcliff roses, blue sweet peas, Heather and Spanish Iris, with a shower of lilies of the valley. Her jewelry was a dainty turquoise locket, which belonged to her mother, and contained pictures of both her mother and father.

The matron of honor, Mrs. James P. Anderson of Indianapolis, a sister of the bride, was gowned in Aqua blue taffeta, in Colonial style, and carried a bouquet of Briarcliff roses, pink sweet peas and paper white narcissus.

The bridesmaids were Misses Mary Jane Sikes, Esther Jane Greer, Gwendolyn Kirk, Helen Vera Dudley, Martha Jane Myers, Mary Louise Montgomery of Sikeston, Geraldine Moll of Poplar Bluff and Frances Baynes of New Madrid. They were dressed alike in gowns of sailing blue taffeta, made on Colonial lines, and wore tiaras of pink rosebuds and carried Colonial nosegays of Briarcliff roses, Heather and white narcissus. Marianne Tomerlin, Ruth Ann Forrester, Marilyn Mayfield and Shirley Penzel, of Sikeston were flower girls, and wore the same type of gowns as the bridesmaids. They carried silver baskets of dainty roses petals.

John W. Noble of Kennett served as best man for Mr. Kern, both of whom wore the conventional dark suits and white rose boutonniere. The ushers were Ralph Baker, Charles Tanner, Dempsey Gardner, J. M. Sitzes Jr., John Dover, Edward Matthews, Ray Waggoner and Paul Bowman Jr. of Sikeston.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the American Legion Country Club for the wedding party, a few close friends of the bride and groom, and the out-of-town guests, who were received by the bride and groom and mother and father of the bride. The three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was placed on a lace covered table.

The bride was graduated from the Kennett high school and attended at the Teachers' Colleges at Cape Girardeau and Springfield, Mo., also the University at Columbia, Mo. Later she took a post graduate course at the Universities of Wisconsin and Colorado. She studied dancing at the Fanchon Marco School in St. Louis and conducted her own school of dancing in Sikeston for the past three years. Prior to that she taught in the Poplar Bluff High School for several years.

The groom is connected with a chain of bus lines, owning and operating several bus terminals throughout Indiana.

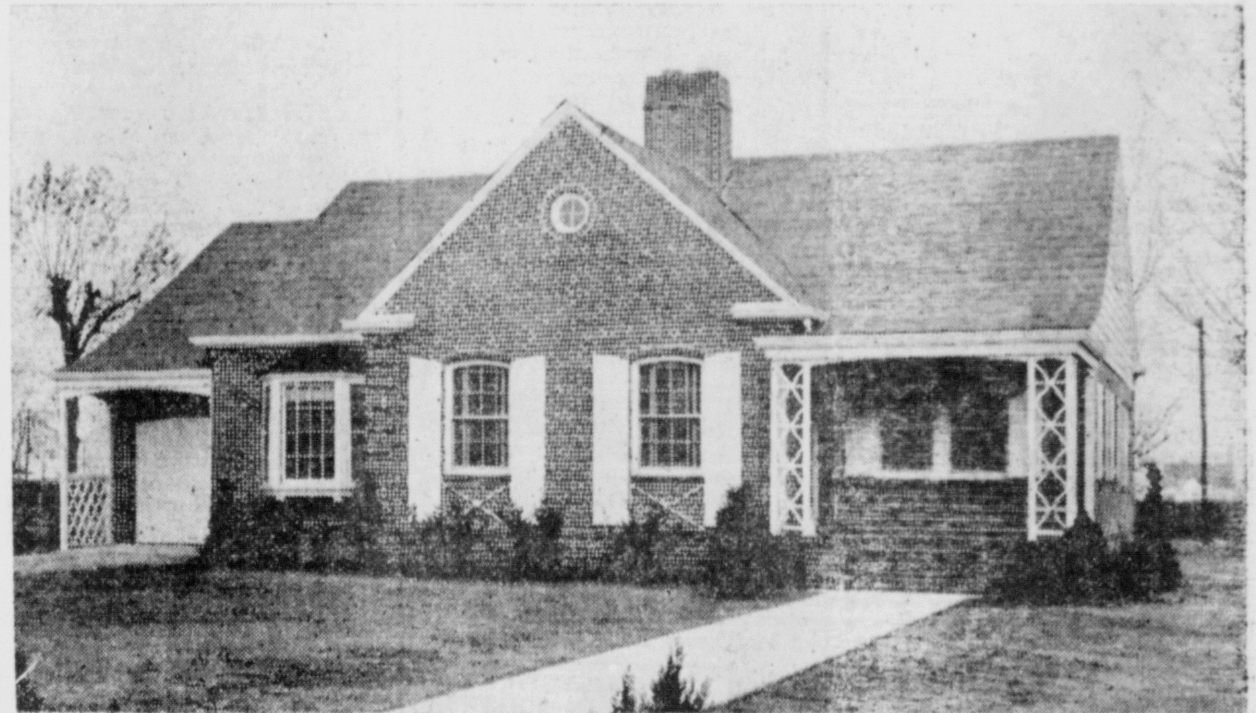

Following a honeymoon in Hot Springs, Ark., and other Southern cities, Mr. and Mrs. Kern will be

Home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Blanton, Sr., on Tanner Street

This Colonial design residence, built soon after the Civil War, has been remodeled into a thoroughly modern home, without losing the Early American appearance. Containing eight rooms and two baths, the interior is finished in New Wood trimmed in mahogany. A part of the house is air-conditioned and heat is furnished by hot air. Painted white, with the two story columns and brick chimney of the period, this house is the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Blanton, Sr., and is situated on the corner of Tanner and North Ranney Street.

Home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Yoffie on North Ranney Ave.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Yoffie on North Ranney, is of brick in Colonial architecture. It has seven rooms, living, dining and breakfast rooms, kitchen, three bedrooms and bath, one the floor, with a garage attached on the north. The woodwork is of mahogany painted red gum, and there are hardwood floors throughout. Tiled bath and kitchen are two of the nice features of the home. This is one of the newest homes in Sikeston.

Republican Success Would Not Stop New Deal Ideas

Five years of intensive public thought on the social and economic reforms set afoot by the New Deal will not down. What had started as a vague hope that a national government would at last find its chief concern in the welfare of the individual has resulted in enshrining in the hearts of the multitude the belief they should have no other.

One can conceive that the daily tornado of abuse and vilification which greets President Roosevelt may retard his program or even destroy it. Or that because of it the Republican party may win nationally in 1940. What then? The Republicans cannot hope for success unless they solemnly pledge what John M. Hamilton, their national chairman terms a "Better Deal."

If the Republican party won and broke its pledge of greater reform, the nation would be treated to such wild public disorder the disciples of greed, the monopolists and the reactionary metropolitan press would sigh for the tranquil waters of today. There are, too, a few more years for public education and for bull-headed and senseless resistance to the established tide toward human freedom. If the greedy had a thimbleful of brains, they would compromise now rather than face the certain enmity of the great majority in both major parties.—Wm. F. Harvey.

RELIEF SUPPLIES AT CITY HALL EXHAUSTED

The Commodities Department of the Social Security office Thursday and Friday distributed food and supplies to 107 white people and 45 negroes before its stock of goods was exhausted. Many people were turned away at the City Hall, where the distribution took place.

Up to Friday, the department this month had distributed 19,600 pounds of potatoes to needy people, and 3600 pounds to schools; 850 pounds of rice to needy, and 600 pounds to schools; 768 2-pound cans of apples, and 1450 pounds of shortening.

Largest Flying Boat In U. S. STARTS FOR RUSSIA

Baltimore, Jan. 20.—The Soviet Clipper, largest flying boat ever constructed in this country, took off for New York this afternoon on the first stage of its journey to Russia. The thirty-ton plane carried naval and air corps officials and others. W. Kenel, chief test pilot for the Glenn Martin Co., which built the plane, was at the controls. The giant plane will be dismantled in New York for shipment to Russia. It reportedly cost $1,000,000. Murray Phillips sends us a card from Honolulu showing three Hula dancing girls doing their stuff. We thought the man close behind the bushes was Murray taking notes as he promised to tell us, as far as he could see, just what they were under the grass skirts.

Sikeston has a man who is an economic royalist, whatever that is. He is a good talker, a good cussier and a most likeable chap. We are calling no names.

Politics is on the go. Mayor Ed Fuchs has declared for re-election as Mayor of Sikeston, not yet announced in The Standard, but announced to friends. It is rumored that others will soon let their friends push them into the race.

Joe Perente, an Indian, who claims to have been a prize fighter, evangelist, and who has preached in the Baptist church at Sikeston a time or two, now is doing time in Kansas City for one year charged with being a vagrant and impostor.

Distinctions in society will always exist under every just government. Equality of talents, of education, of wealth cannot be produced by human institutions. In the full enjoyment of the gifts of Heaven and the fruits of superior industry, economy and virtue, every man is entitled to the protection of law. But when the laws undertake to add artificial distinctions to these natural and just advantages—to make the rich richer and more powerful—the humble members of society, the farmers, mechanics and laborers, who have neither the time nor the means of securing like favors to themselves, have the right to complain of the injustice of our government. — Sen. Bennett C. Clark at Springfield.

Right now we are in a wondering mood. We were asked to join the Young Democratic Club and did so. What makes us wonder? Did they think we were in our second childhood and was eligible, or did they want the name and the fifty cents and overlook the age.

In the event of the death of utility and railroad holding companies, any competent coroner's jury would return a verdict of suicide, regardless of what surviving relatives say. If there were ever institutions doomed through hereditary and congenital afflictions, it was these two. They have been so filled with deception and public pillage there was little chance for healthful growth. They have become repellantly swollen as their appetites grew. The owners lament the lack of public confidence and the dearth of investment. But they have left little room for any other type of investor than the class who would use lions as pets.

Bulldogs Conquer Matthews, 31-18, in Steady Offensive

Fast-passing Bulldogs ran off with a 31-18 victory over Matthews here Friday night to give the Sikeston five its fifth straight triumph.

Younger Bulldogs chopped off a three-quarter lead to overcome the Matthews subs, 19-17.

Sikeston's team held its usual tight defensive play and compelled the New Madrid County team to try for field goals at a distance. The outsiders resorted to potshots that were not so effective in their effort to make some points the hard way.

Coach Vernon Green used a slightly different combination for a starter, playing DeWitt Lambert most of the game, and using Tommy Marshall for large part of the fray. Marshall was making his reappearance after being on the bench several weeks with an injured knee. Buddy Aldridge and Carol Davis, who have been regular starters, saw but a few minutes service the last period.

Sikeston's offensive clicked well against Matthews, as in the Dexter game. Paced by Long Clyde Long, whose ability to whirl in a crowd and drop the ball through in corkscrew shots gained him 12 points, the Bulldogs snared the lead at the first and were never threatened. The count at the first official rest was 8-3; at the half, 15-8; at the three-quarter mark, 21-12.

The junior teams put on a thrilling episode as they played neck-and-neck throughout the game. Chiefly through their deadly aim at the free-throw line, the Matthews boys led for three periods—6-2, 9-7 and 15-13.

Going into the final period, Sikeston tied it up and two baskets by Lumsden gave the sub-Bulldogs a safe lead, although two free tosses by Billington cut down the margin.

PESTS SURVIVE THE WINTER IN MODERN HEATED HOUSES

The even heating of modern homes keeps alive through the winter many insect household pests that once were frozen in chilly clothes closets and storage rooms. The Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine says that clothes moths, carpet beetles, cockroaches, silverfish, and other species often thrive the year around in warm houses.

Frequent brushing, sunning, and airing of woolen clothing and furs during the winter will do much to save them from clothes moth and carpet beetle damage. Slightly soiled garments such as wool sweaters and socks are especially attractive to moths. Little-worn articles are best cleaned and packed away in moth-proof containers with naphthalene or paradichlorobenzene flakes. Scrupulous cleaning of all cracks and corners of closets and other storage places in ordinary use helps to keep them free of insects.

Cleanliness is also a protection against cockroaches. An immaculately clean kitchen and all food stored in the refrigerator or insect-proof containers will discourage cockroaches.

The small, active, greyish, scale-covered insects known as silverfish thrive in damp, warm basements. They cause serious injury anywhere in the house, feeding upon paper and wallpaper, bookbindings, starch or sweet food.

They can be destroyed by a poison bait made of 100 parts of oatmeal, 8 parts of white arsenic, 5 parts of granulated sugar, 2 1/2 parts of salt, and water to moisten. This bait must be kept away from children and pets. Another method of getting rid of silverfish is to sprinkle pyrethrum powder where they run, or spray with a mixture of kerosene or paradichlorobenzene dissolved in carbon tetrachloride.

Dec. 14, 1938, to the county winner in the landowners' division, the tenant-sharecropper division, and the farm operators' division. Extension Awards—Trophies to the counties winning the sweepstakes award and the county having the largest percentage of farm families competing.

County Newspaper Awards—Trophy to the county newspaper editor whose paper does most to make the competition in his county a success.

Judgings

The county agent and home demonstration agent with the members of the County Judging Committee shall select the county winners in each division. The decision of the committee shall be final. The committee shall be headed by the county and home agents.

County winners will be chosen on their work in following a live-at-home program, diversification, soil conservation, and home management and improvement. The improvement made this year will count 65 per cent and in previous years 35 per cent.

The judging shall be based on the following:
Forty per cent for living-at-home.

Twenty per cent for soil conservation.

Twenty per cent for diversification.

Twenty per cent for home improvement.

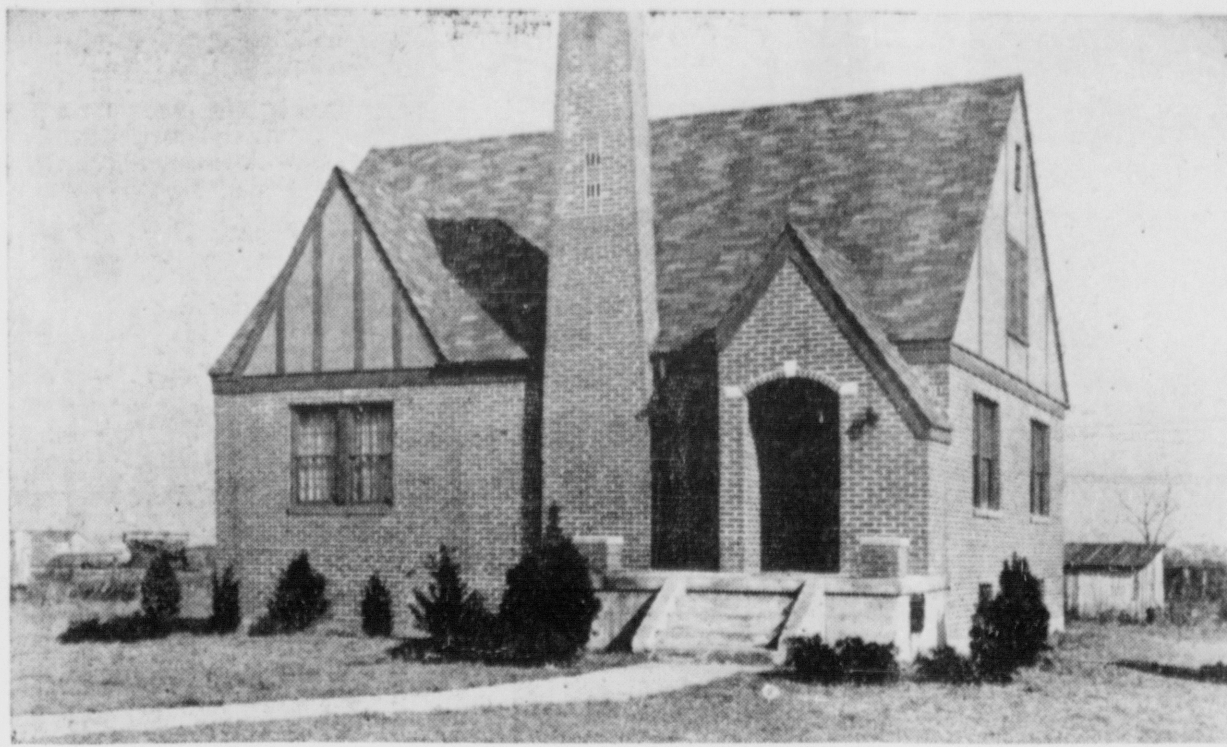

Officials of the Plant To Prosper Competition suggest that the committee first inspect the record books to determine which farm families in the respective counties have made the best records during the year. When the best records have been selected, the county committee should visit the farms to select the winner, so that the best possible county farm will represent the county in the state competition.

When the county winners have been chosen, their names shall be telegraphed to the Plant To Prosper Bureau and the record books mailed to the State Extension Service. Separate winners shall be chosen in each division. All record books of county winners must be in the State Extension office by Nov. 1, 1938.

State judging committees, appointed by the Extension Director, will select the state prize winners. The committees may be composed of the state agent, state home demonstration agent, state agronomist, the extension editor and a representative of the Plant To Prosper Bureau.

When the state winners have been chosen, three agricultural experts will select the winner of the sharecropper division. This winner shall compete with the Qualification—Five entries in any division qualifies that county in that division.

In all contests the judging committee's decision shall be final.

LEGALS

In The Circuit Court of Scott County, Missouri, To The March Term, A. D. 1938.

Action For Divorce and Custody of Child.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Bessie Cauthorn Gordon, a minor, by Lee Cauthorn, her next friend, Plaintiff,

vs. No. 5687

William E. Gordon, Defendant.

Now on this 21st day of January, 1938, in vacation of the Circuit Court of Scott County, Missouri, comes the Plaintiff herein by her Attorneys, Blanton & Montgomery, and files her Petition for Divorce duly verified by Affidavit, alleging therein, among other things, that the Defendant, William E. Gordon, is a non-resident of the State of Missouri and can not be served with process in this State in the manner required by law.

Whereupon, It Is The Order of The Undersigned, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Scott County, Missouri, in Vacation, That publication be made notifying said Defendant, William E. Gordon, that the Plaintiff has commenced an action against him by petition in the Circuit Court of Scott County, Missouri, the object and general nature of which is to dissolve the Bonds of Matrimony now existing between Plaintiff and Defendant and to obtain custody of child.

And, Unless the said Defendant, William E. Gordon, shall be and appear in the Circuit Court within and for the County of Scott, in the State of Missouri, at the next regular term thereof, to be begun and held in the Court House in the Town of Benton, Scott County, Missouri, on the Second Monday in March, A. D. 1938, to-wit Monday, March 14th, 1938, and shall then and there, before the Judge of said Circuit Court, answer or otherwise plead to Plaintiff's petition in said cause, the said petition will be taken as by said Defendant confessed and judgment will be rendered as prayed in the Plaintiff's petition.

It is Further Ordered, That a copy hereof be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Sikeston Standard, a newspaper of general circulation published in Scott County, Missouri, the last insertion thereof to be at least fifteen days before the first day of the said March Term, 1938, of this Court, to which this cause is returnable.

White Youth Reared in China

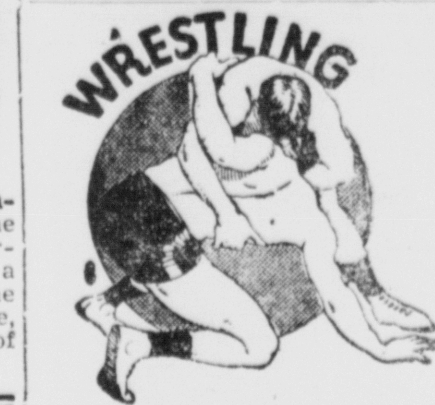

Back in U. S. To Learn English

New York, Jan. 20.—Fung Kwok Kenung, a white youth, returned to New York yesterday from Nam Hoi, China, where he has lived the life of a Chinese for the last 15 years. The youth, now 19 years old, returned to New York to learn the speech and customs of his native land.

Fung wept as he embraced his foster parent, Chinese restaurant owner, named Fung Dong, of Rockaway Beach, N. Y., at the railroad station. Commanding only a few stray words of English, the boy appeared shy and bewildered as he tried to answer questions. He kept glancing at his American clothing—gray trousers, blue sweater, white shirt, gray overcoat and tan shoes, all purchased in Hong Kong when he began his journey home—and wore his gray felt hat riding high and straight on his head in the manner of China-born persons.

The elder Fung adopted the white boy when he found him, a two-months-old child, naked and deserted on a table in his restaurant. Later, the mother wanted him back, but the Supreme Court upheld the Chinese in his parental rights. The foster father explained that he had wanted the boy to acquire his Chinese education first "because Chinese schools are hard." After them, he thought,

1937 SALES TAX NETS

STATE OVER 17 MILLION

The buying public of Missouri, through Missouri retail dealers, paid into the State Treasury in sales tax a total of $17,513,200.92 during 1937, a report of State Auditor Forrest Smith shows.

Collection expense for this fund amount to $315,200.

The statement shows $35,108,480.12 was disbursed to institutions and for social security, during the four years since the sales tax has been in operation, while $37,777,454.01 was collected during the same period.

Disbursements are divided as follows: One-third to State School Fund, $12,592,484.67; relief, $13,294,476.96; old-age assistance, $8,476,997.41; care of indigent insane and tubercular patients, $3,744,521.08.

Merchants were allowed 3 per cent for collection since the Two Per Cent Tax Law went into effect June 8, 1937, and retained $260,789.69 as a reward for collection and promptness. The state began the sales tax with a rate of one-half of one per cent, which was in effect from Jan. 15, 1934, to Aug. 26, 1935. From that date until June 7, 1937, it was one per cent, and afterward the two per cent went into force. Collections for 1934 yielded but three million dollars; 1935, five million, and 1936, twelve million.

PSYCHIC PALMIST

MAKES AN HONEST PROPOSITION

I do hereby solemnly swear to make no charge if I do not faithfully fulfill every word embodied in this statement. I will tell just what you want to know about friends, enemies or rivals; whether husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false; how to gain the love of one you most desire; control or influence the actions of anyone, even though miles away. I further guarantee and promise to make no charge unless you find me superior to any other palmist you ever consulted. There is no hope so fond or wish so great that I cannot accomplish for you.

I guarantee success where all other palmists fail.

I give never-failing advice upon all matters of life, such as love, courtship, marriage, divorce, business, law suits, speculation and transactions of all kinds. I never fail to reunite the separated, cause speedy and happy marriages, overcome enemies, rivals, lover's quarrels, evil habits, stumbling blocks and bad luck of all kinds.

I lift you out of sorrow and trouble and start you on the path to happiness and prosperity. There is no heart so sad or home so dreary that I cannot bring sunshine to, in fact, no matter what may be your hope, fear or ambition, I do guarantee to tell it all before you utter a word to me, and after I am finished if you are not absolutely satisfied and if I do not faithfully fulfill every word and claim above, then you pay not a penny and I do herewith sign my name to this statement.

MADAME CLARA.

No fortune telling, my work is mentalism.

Madame Clara prides herself of the fact of being the only palmist in the world who has, during her stay in England, been officially summoned to the St. James Palace in London, to read for his late majesty, King Edward VII. Located Wides Oil Co., 1 mile south of Sikeston on Highway 61 at "Y".

New Citizens—New Homes—New Furnishings

Sikeston seems to be in for her full share of material gains in 1938.

To be sure we can't forget there is a "recession" on because so many people talk about it.

But the fellow who believes Southeast Missouri is "broke" is simply beside himself.

We have recently had a very complete demonstration of that fact within our own firm.

Frank Lair Jr., of Charleston, decided to close out his beautiful furniture department—put on a three weeks sale—on what was practically a CASH basis—and sold more merchandise the first week than was ever sold by any furniture store in this section—past or present in the same length of time.

Special Furniture Sales on a CASH basis are considered mere dreams by most furniture merchants.

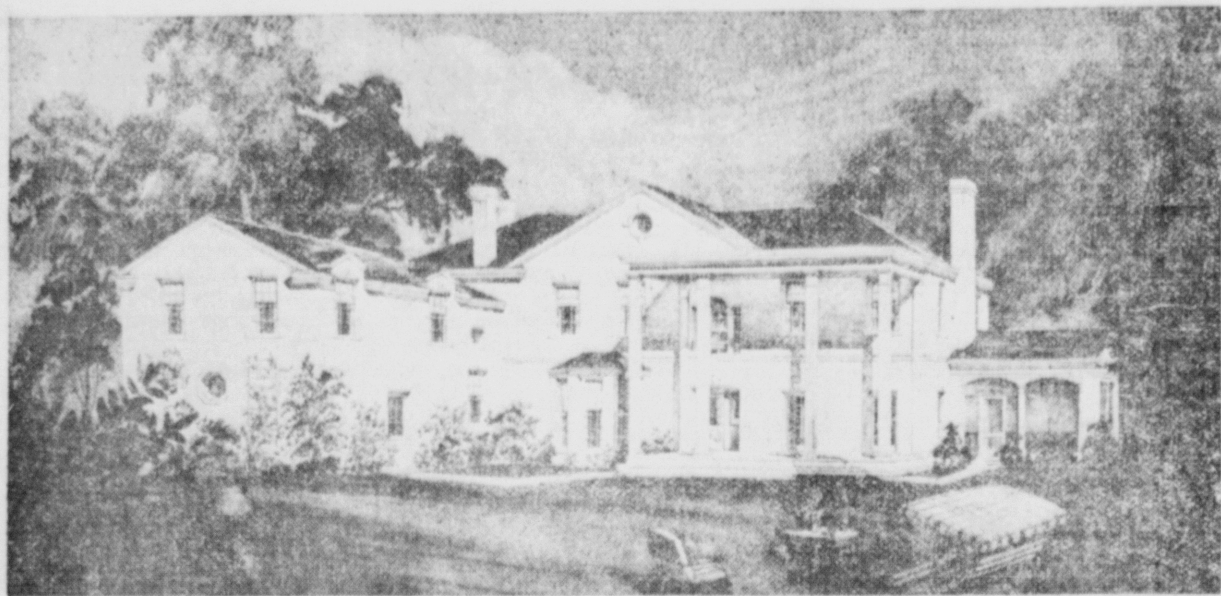

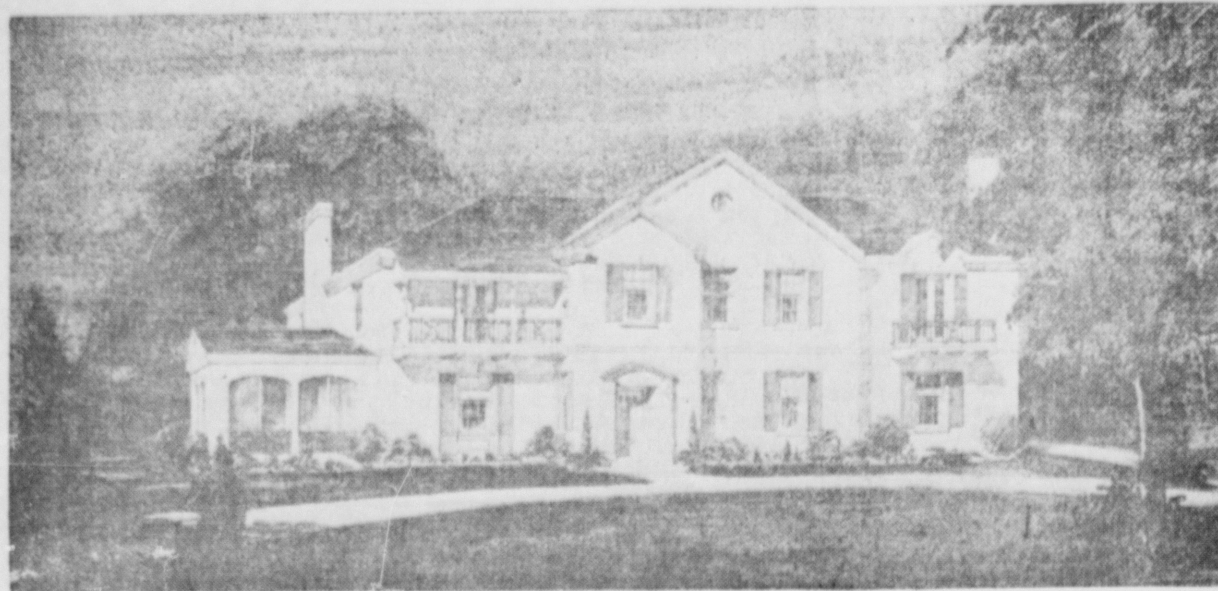

But this one went over big—and while there were unusual inducements in the way of prices and service—results showed very plainly that there is plenty of cash in Southeast Missouri that will show up at any time Mr. and Mrs. John Public find things they want at substantial savings.

During the coming season we have our goal set high for improvement and in keeping with the flock of beautiful new homes built in 1937 and the scores of others that will go up in '38 we shall try to set a record of furniture merchandising that is not excelled even in large cities.

We shall appreciate your encouragement.

Home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Coleman on North Ranney

Of Colonial Monterey design, this residence now under construction on North Ranney, for Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Coleman, is of white painted brick and contains twelve rooms and four baths, including the wing of the servants quarters. The woodwork is painted white and the walls, except the book room, which is paneled in walnut, are covered in paper of design appropriate to that style of house. In the suite of rooms planned for Mrs. Coleman's mother, Mrs. J. E. Hertherington of Canada, the living room fireplace is of Louis XVI design, while the one in the large living room is in the Adam period. The bathrooms are finished in Pittsburgh glass and the fixtures in the kitchen and butler's pantry are of Monel metal. The rooms are unusually spacious and include

Home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Harty on Park Avenue

This Cape Cod type of residence, modified by Virginia influence, is the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Harty at 616 Park Avenue. The house is painted white and has interesting window treatment in both stories. A screened porch is at the rear and the garage is reached by a side drive. The interior contains seven rooms and bath. The paper on the living room walls is of period design and a large fireplace at the north end of the room is finished in Fonder-

RULING ON BEER-LIQUOR SALES IN ONE BUILDING

Jefferson City, Mo., January 21.—In a ruling sent today to State Supervisor of Liquor Control Thomas F. Fitzgerald, Attorney work downstairs is of natural oak.

General Roy McKittrick held that licenses to sell liquor in original package and beer by the drink can be held in one building, under conditions set out in the opinion. The conditions are that a building in which this can be done, must be partitioned tightly from ceiling to floor, separate entrances maintained with no opening in the partition between the two rooms. This question is continually confronting the Supervisor of Liquor Control, it was stated in

Home of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Sutton on North Ranney

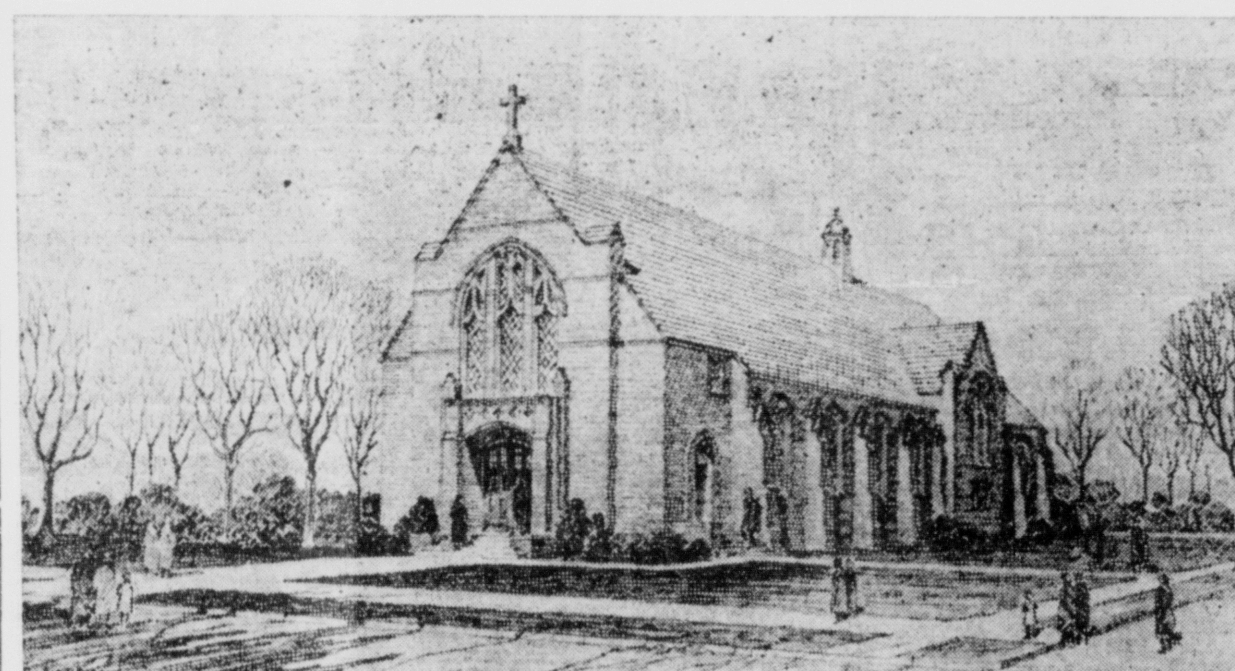

Above is a bungalow type of residence recently built on North Ranney for Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Sutton. It is constructed of brick, limestone and 10 inch siding, contains seven rooms and bath, has a garage attached and a screened porch on the south. The woodwork is painted white, the bath is in brown and white, and the kitchen has a color scheme of white, black and red.

Home of Mrs. Irma Allen on North Ranney Avenue

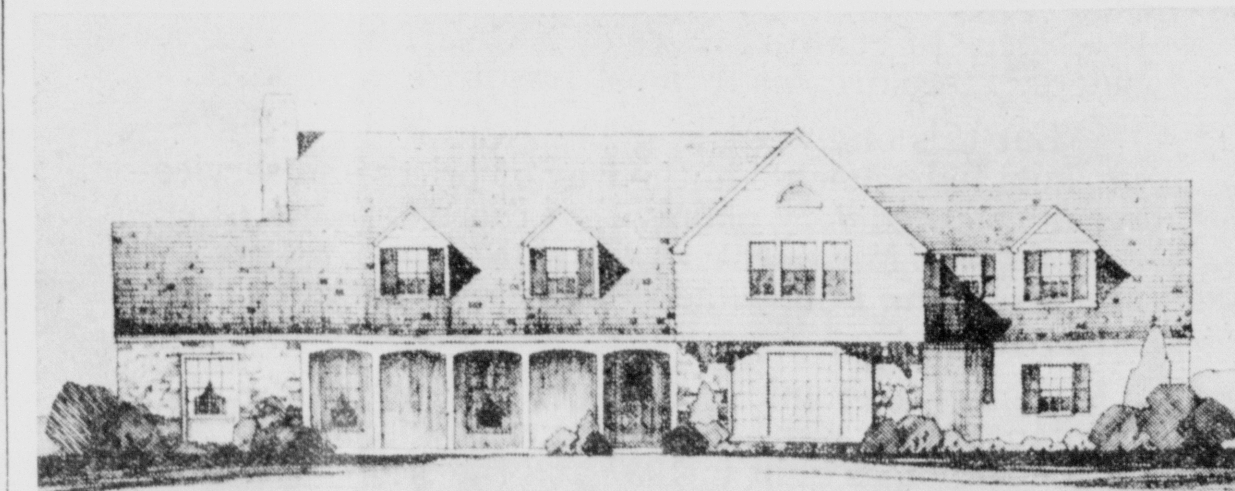

Of French Provincial type of architecture, this white painted brick house, completed in the summer of 1937 for Mrs. Irma Wilson Allen, contains five rooms and bath. A large screened porch of south exposure, is furnished for a summer living room and the garage is attached to the north side of the house. The interior woodwork is painted white and the walls except the hall, which is papered, are of painted plaster. There are hardwood floors throughout and heat is furnished by an oil burning furnace. Both kitchen and bath are tiled. The furniture suggests the period of the house design.

Architect's Drawing of New St. Francis Xavier Church

Sitting back about 30 feet from Stoddard Street, the new St. Francis Xavier Church will rise on almost the same site as marked the old frame building which housed the parishioners for so many years. But unlike the old church, the new edifice will be of brick and concrete construction. In size the building is 107 feet long, 41 feet wide and the ridge of the roof rises 39 feet above the ground.

Home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Slack on North Kingshighway

This story and a half house recently constructed for Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Slack at 717 North Kingshighway, is early American in architecture, in the early American farm house type. It is a combination of stone and frame siding, with wood shingles stained a silver gray. The exterior woodwork is painted white. There are nine rooms and two baths in the house, and a powder room on the first floor. The study on the first floor and the recreation on the second are paneled entirely in wood and the other walls except the kitchen and bathrooms, which are tiled, are papered in quaint patterns, characteristic of the period. A greenhouse has been incorporated on the garden side of the house and the grounds have been landscaped.

Architect's Drawing of New Armory to be Erected in Sikeston

The architect's drawing of the new city municipal center and brick and tile, will have a large garage and supply room on the National Guard armory, construction of which is expected to begin the center, a stage at one side of the drill hall and a banquet hall in ground floor; rifle range, showers, toilets and furnace room in the basement; additional offices and club rooms for the American Legion and for enlisted men on either wing upstairs, J. L. Sutterfield, architect.

Architect's Drawing of Library Now Being Erected in Sikeston

This attractive new Library building is of red brick in soft shade in a colonial design. The exterior is trimmed in white, including the porch, which will have white columns, and the roof is covered in slate. The interior has a main floor for patrons and a basement with an auditorium type club room, seating 200 people. The reading room has a fireplace and will be furnished in maple chairs and tables, to emphasize the Colonial idea. There is a separate room for children and a third room on the main floor is for board meetings. A stage will be constructed in the club room and another room will serve as a combination and book mending room. A small dressing room is a part of the lower floor plan.

Architect's Drawing of Sikeston Municipal Golf Club Building

Architect J. L. Sutterfield's drawing of the proposed $20,000 clubhouse on the golf course project at the city airport. It will have a modern dance and dining hall, 46 by 30; lounge, 12 by 24; screened porch, 12 by 50. On the east wing will be a basement, first floor, second floor, and second floor balcony overlooking the dance hall. The east wing basement will contain toilets and lockers for club members. The west wing has the dining hall for club members and the caretaker's rooms—living room, bedroom, kitchen, dinette and bath, under which is another basement. The west wing roof is a deck roof, with hand rails, for garden parties. Architecture runs along Spanish lines.

W. B. FAHY RENAMED UNITED STATES MARSHAL
St. Louis, Jan. 21.—William B. Fahy was reappointed United States Marshal for the Eastern District of Missouri by President Roosevelt yesterday. He was first appointed in December, 1933, succeeding T. W. Hukreide, Republican, who had served 10 years.

Fahy, 61, an attorney and a veteran in Democratic circles in Missouri, maintains a residence at Monroe City.

In Washington it was said that no difficulties are expected in the renaming of other federal officeholders in St. Louis. These include Thomas J. Sheehan, Collector of Internal Revenue; Harry C. Blanton, United States Attorney, and Fount Rothwell, Collector of Customs.

Senator Harry S. Truman, who, with Senator Bennett C. Clark, had endorsed Fahy for reappointment, said he did not anticipate any difficulty so far as the remainder of the St. Louis patronage is considered.

Truman said last night he had not conferred as yet with Clark on any Missouri patronage matters. He said he expected to do so in the near future.

MISSOURI WPA ROLLS UP 7500 IN MONTH

Jefferson City, January 20.—An increase of 7500 persons on the WPA rolls in Missouri during the last month was ascribed today by Matthew S. Murray, State Administrator, to the effects of the current recession in business.

"There's no question but that the demand for additional jobs has been created by business conditions," Murray said. He added, however, the WPA rolls could not be regarded as an accurate criterion to determine unemployment trends.

Latest figures in Murray's office showed there were 57,183 on the WPA rolls, as compared with 49,600 the middle of December. The increase in the rolls has been largely centered in the heavily-populated areas, Murray said.

The administration said there were 13,920 on the rolls in St. Louis, 7881 in Kansas City, 2414 in Greene County, 2297 in Jasper County, and 1973 in Buchanan County.

Despite the apparent increase in unemployment in Missouri, Murray said 1700 WPA workers left the rolls during the last month to re-enter private employment.

$3,592,758 PAID STATE UNEMPLOYMENT BOARD

Jefferson City, Jan. 20.—A total of $3,592,758 had been paid to the State Unemployment Compensation Commission by 3067 Missouri employers as a 1.8 per cent tax on 1937 pay rolls today—the dead line set for the payments.

Of this total, $1,343,612, or more than a third, was paid yesterday.

Service Station Building Owned by Vernon Kelly

This combination service station and garage was completed in August, 1937, for Vernon Kelly, the owner. It is located on Highway 61 at the corner of Kathleen Avenue. Of brick construction, the building is 56x25 in size, and is rented by the Shell Petroleum Company.

Hotel Owned by Lyman Gross on Highway 61

The Gross Hotel is primarily a motorist hotel and was opened on the 18th of October by Lyman Gross, on Highway 61 one block south of the intersection with Highway 60. It consists of the main building, which has steam-heated, air-conditioned rooms with a bath in each, and apartment outside, easily accessible to the cars of traveling motorists. service station, cafe and barber shop are connected with the Hotel.

The payments so far have averaged $1172 per employer.

W. L. Patterson, a member of the commission, said the rush to get in under the dead line would probably send today's receipts soaring above yesterday's high figure, and heavy returns the remainder of the week.

The commission had estimated the 1937 payroll payments would total about $11,000,000. They will form a part of the fund from which benefits to jobless workers will be paid starting in 1939.

A penalty of 1 per cent a month interest will be assessed on delinquencies. However, extensions up to 60 days are possible under the law and Patterson said most of the requests for such extensions could be granted to eliminate any unfairness caused by misunderstanding of the new law.

The commission sent out contribution blanks to 9138 employers hiring a total of 601,430 persons.

WPA DELAYS REMOVAL OF SECURITY ELIGIBLES

Washington, January 20.—The Works Progress Administration today postponed until March 1 the effective date of a new work relief policy separating from WPA rolls all workers entitled to social security unemployment compensation checks.

Aubrey Williams, acting administrator, said the March 1 date was fixed to give the 22 states and the District of Columbia, which start benefits this year, a chance to get administrative machinery perfected.

Williams said workers insured by social security benefits during previous private employment would be retained on the rolls even beyond March 1 in any state where unemployment compensation agencies were not ready actually to pay benefits.

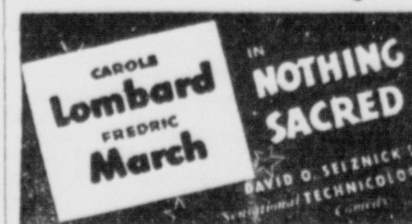

Insured workers, officials said, will be given a preferred status and re-employed by WPA, if funds are sufficient, as soon as their compensation period is expired.

Four Lose Lives As Auto Hits Truck Near Kennett

Kennett, Jan. 22.—Their speeding automobile crashing late Friday night into the rear of a disabled motor truck parked on Highway 34, about 7 miles east of here, four of five persons in the vehicle were killed outright. The fifth, the driver, is in a critical condition in a Memphis, Tenn., hospital.

The dead are: Mrs. Lou French, 23; Lindell Hickerson, 21; Mrs. Esther Wallace, 21, and Miss Essie Stephens, 19, all employees at a shirt factory here. Lon French, 28, husband of one of the women, was driving the car, a 1937 model Ford coach. He is in a critical condition with a brain concussion in the Memphis hospital.

Patrolmen Cletus Bidewell and P. W. Scott of the State Highway Patrol were among the first to reach the scene of the accident, said the passenger car had run under the rear end of the truck, completely demolishing the top of French's car. The front wheels of the Ford were so wedged with the rear dual wheels of the truck that they had to be removed before the passenger car could be extricated. All of the bodies were wedged in the car.

French was first removed and taken to the hospital and officers and rescuers, seeing that life had passed from the others, did not remove the bodies until after the cars had been pulled apart by wreckers summoned from Kennett. Patrolmen Bidewell and Scott said the truck is owned by a firm in Paragould, Ark., distributing soft drinks and was loaded with the beverage. The driver, Jim Hester, 30, of Paragould, had gone into Kennett for assistance after a wheel had run off his truck. He had set out three flares in front of his truck and three at the rear, the officers said. No eye-witnesses had been located who had witnessed the crash. The officers said, however, that the passenger car apparently was being driven at a high rate of speed.

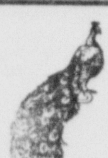

French's car was badly damaged. The sides were caved in and the top reduced to debris. Officers said they found four bottles in the car, but that all were empty and one of them was broken.

Checking back over the activities of the quintet overtaken by tragedy, officers said it had been reported to them the five were seen at the Okeana Club, a roadside establishment near here, a short time before the accident took place.

The bodies were brought to undertaking establishments here and a coroner's inquest was to be conducted today.

Strength During MIDDLE LIFE

Strength is extra-important for women going through the change of life. Then the body needs the very best nourishment to fortify it against the changes that are taking place. In such cases, Cardui has proved helpful to many women. It increases the appetite and aids digestion, favoring more complete transformation of food into living tissue, resulting in improved nutrition and building up and strengthening of the whole system.

French and his wife were occupying the front seat. Mrs. French's feet had been forced through the battery case, slivers from the battery splintering off and entangling themselves in the radiator. She was mangled almost beyond identification. In the rear seat of the car Hickerson had been sitting between Mrs. Wallace and Miss Stephens. Officers, noting the direction of the car as it crashed, said the back of it apparently had been forced along with the front of the car, under the truck, the bed of the truck demolishing the rear end of the car, crushing the skulls and chests of those in the back seat.—Cape Missourian.

Animals in St. Louis Zoo Have Strange Winter Diets

With only the alligators in complete hibernation, feeding at the St. Louis Zoo goes on in winter at much the same rate as in summer. Watching the animals eat is one of the chief diversions of visitors. Feeding the 1674 specimens is a large scale job and about a ton and a half of food is used daily. The animals' appetites vary in size from that of Miss Jim, the elephant, which consumes 70 pounds of fodder daily, to that of some of the smaller lizards, which get a few cockroaches once a week. The largest amount proportionally is eaten by the smallest specimens, the hummingbirds, which drink four times their weight of a honey nectar daily. The varieties of food used in Each house, too, has its own special habits and special pets. The most publicized feeding on the grounds is that of the two pythons, Blondie and Maharanee of Wangpoo, which are force-fed once every month. The feeding which is the most diverting to spectators is that of Jackie and Lady, the two talented young chimpanzees. Taking their main meal sitting with their trainer, Leon Smith, they poach some of his sandwiches, steal his coffee, and when he brings pie they usually get it all. Besides this they have, of course, their large bowl of green vegetables.

Equally affectionate is the giraffe gazelle in the antelope house, which puts its forepaws on the keeper's shoulders and takes carrots out of his mouth or shirt pocket.

Phino Is Heavy Eater

Harry, the 5500-pound Indian rhinoceros, still growing prodigiously, eats during more than two-thirds of the waking hours and has the most elaborate feeding schedule. Standard food for the beast is hay, grain and vegetables, 60 pounds a day, but Harry also gets two delicacies. Every afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the rhino gets a half pint of molasses diluted with a little water drunk through a hose out of a beer bottle, and twice a week in winter it gets a half gallon of yellow clay, which it licks with delight. It contains minerals and oils.

Probably the neatest eaters are the raccoons, which wash all their food before eating it. The most graceful are the cocks-of-the-rock, dainty birds which catch grapes on the wing as Kennon throws the fruit into the air. The easiest to feed is Johnny, the shoe-leathered stork. The long-legged creature merely opens its bill and Kennon lays a fish inside. The giraffes get most excited on the three days each week when they smell raw onions mixed in with their vegetables.

All of the animals get only good quality food because Vierheller feels that cheap food is a false economy. Along with their meals most of them get a sprinkling of powder which contains calcium, lime and other necessary chemicals. For the last fiscal year the food bill for the entire Zoo was $37,557.09.—Post-Dispatch.

A Republican newspaper in Missouri takes a churlish attitude toward a suggestion of this writer.

He had advanced the idea the old age assistance list should be published as advertising following the declaration by Gov. Lloyd C. Stark that publicity might shame many families able to care for their dependents into removing them from the roll. The Republican editor said the writer's suggestion "may be a new scheme to give New Deal papers some 'gravy.'" "This is a gratuitous assumption. The writer's suggestion was given clearly as one 'to insure the widest publicity,' a statement implying the opposite of any restriction. Even though the Democratic party sympathetically started old age pensions and put them into effect as against a maliciously false propaganda by Republican newspapers and the negative votes of Republican legislators, neither this writer nor the body of the Democratic party looked on them as a partisan matter, then or now. The pension act merely made effective a broad and growing humanitarianism felt by citizens without regard to party and to which Republican newspapers and legislators were traitors. The Republican editor may be reminded that the attitude of both was soundly rebuked by the editorial head of their party, Alf M. Landon, who enthusiastically embraced social security in his campaign for president. Without having gone into the matter on a dollar and cents basis, the writer believed the spending of $3,000 to $4,000 in advertising the county lists in each county would be salutary of two reasons. It would financially be worth while. It would stand as an effective warning to those well-to-do families who have chiseled in on a socially needed and socially valuable movement which has its main-spring in the finest attributes of civilized man and in doing so shaming both themselves and the state.—William P. Harvey.
